Item 4 - Advisory Business

4A. Firm Description

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC was founded as a Registered Investment Adviser firm in Oregon in 2009. Andrew D. Jamison, CFP® is the founder, owner, and sole principal of the firm.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC (hereinafter "MAFS") provides fee-only financial planning, investment management services, and wealth advisory services to individuals, families, and their related entities, trusts and estates, and family businesses. We also provide advice to retirement plan participants.

Prior to engaging in any services, we will enter into an agreement specific to the services to be provided to you. The agreement may not be modified or amended except as signed by both parties. You have the right to cancel the agreement without penalty within 5 business days after entering into the agreement. Thereafter, the agreement can be cancelled at any time by either party, for any reason, upon receipt of written notice by the non-cancelling party. Email or voice cancellation is also acceptable as long as it is followed by written notice. In the event of early contract termination for financial planning services we provide any analysis completed at the point of termination. Upon termination any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable.

4B. Types of Advisory Services

MAFS offers financial planning, investment management services, and wealth advisory services to our clients. All prospective clients receive a complimentary initial consultation to discuss the range and suitability of services offered.

Financial Planning

MAFS' financial planning advice is implementation centered in that our goal is to help you identify your key issues/goals and then assist you in making the incremental changes necessary to make them a reality.

If you decide to retain us for financial planning services, we will:

- Gather and analyze all relevant information
- Identify and prioritize your key issues/goals
- Structure a timeline for meeting your key issues/goals
- Discuss strategies available to you
- Make specific recommendations for each key issue/goal
- Ensure that you implement any agreed upon recommendations
- Review your progress towards achieving your goals

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

We deliver a financial plan in the form of a series of emails rather than in a single binder that contains a "financial plan". Each email recaps our conversation about each specific goal, includes an analysis of your present situation and available options, and our specific recommendations. Our reasoning behind this approach is that we have found it to be more effective to break the financial planning process into a series of meetings that are each centered on a specific topic.

In working thru the financial planning process, we may recommend that you increase your contributions to your employer's retirement plan, contribute to a Roth IRA, add or decrease the amount of cash holdings, consolidate investment accounts, or purchase securities according to an investment strategy based on your time horizon, risk tolerance, and other unique constraints. We also might suggest possible tax or estate planning strategies for you to pursue with an accountant or attorney.

Financial planning is an ongoing process and should not be viewed as a one-time event. As life changes, so do your financial planning goals and priorities. Ongoing financial planning is important to keep you on track and can be accommodated in a variety of ways, depending on your needs.

Financial planning is based on your current financial situation and on the information disclosed to us by you. While we cannot offer guarantees or promises that your key issues and goals will be met, an advisory relationship with us can provide an ongoing stimulus to stay on top of, make changes, and adapt your plan over time.

On an annual basis, the investment adviser must make a reasonable effort to confirm or update the written information about each Client.

Also, we may advise on the contribution amount to the plan.

4C. Client Tailored Relationships and Restrictions

In general, portfolio investment strategies are tailored to meet the needs of individual clients, based on a mutually agreed upon model asset allocation. Each investment portfolio is individually designed to meet your investment objectives, risk tolerance, and investment horizon. Additionally, financial planning, estate planning, and tax planning services are generally delivered upon receipt of a signed client engagement for such services. Planning issues are prioritized and then addressed, either at one time or over the course of several conferences. As appropriate to each program, clients meet with their advisor as often as need to review any changes to the client's financial situation, the investment portfolio upon which advice is provided by MAFS and planning issues.

Tax Planning – The purpose of tax planning is to ensure tax efficiency, with the elements of the financial plan working together in the most tax-efficient manner possible.

Education Planning – Paying for post-high school education can be a major concern with the cost of education increasing at a pace greater than inflation. The work on this topic will include determining the most appropriate vehicle, funding amounts, and investment selection.

Retirement Planning - This is the planning that one does to prepare for life after paid work ends. It involves determining how much you need to save, where to save it, and how to invest it. A big piece of retirement planning is monitoring your progress and making changes as needed.

After consultation with their advisor, clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. This most often occurs when clients request certain social investment needs be addressed, such as through the use of mutual funds which avoid investments in certain companies. Other restrictions may be imposed by clients with respect to the (average or longest) maturity or credit quality of fixed income investments. Restrictions which, in our opinion, are not in your best interests cannot be honored and, if forced, may result in the termination of your advisory agreement.

As part of our financial planning and investment management services, MAFS may provide guidance regarding non-investment related matters. Neither MAFS nor any of its representatives serves as an attorney, accountant, or insurance agent, and no portion of MAFS' services should be construed as legal, tax, or insurance advice. To the extent requested by a client, MAFS may recommend the services of other professionals for non-investment implementation purposes. You are under no obligation to engage the services of any such recommended professional. You retain absolute discretion over all such implementation decisions and are free to accept or reject any recommendation from us. Please note that if you engage any such recommended professional and a dispute arises thereafter relative to such engagement, you agree to seek recourse exclusively from and against the engaged professional.

Please note that it remains your responsibility to promptly notify MAFS when there is a change in your financial situation or investment objectives for the purposes of reviewing, evaluating, or revising MAFS' previous recommendations and/or services.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

5A. Fee Schedules, Payments and Options

Financial Planning

MAFS offers financial planning on an hourly basis at $250 per hour. It is MAFS' experience that a typical financial planning engagement will take between 12-20 hours.

Financial planning for clients with assets under management (AUM) at MAFS is complimentary.

MAFS will negotiate individual fees solely at its discretion. Payment of fees are due upon service. Fees are paid via check or with a credit card.

The fees do not include any additional charge for analysis of clients' insurance needs and policies.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

Investment Management Services

Investment management fees are based on the following fee schedule.

Assets Under Management	Annual Fee (in%)
$0 to $1,000,000	1.00%
$1,000,001 to $2,000,000	0.75%
$2,000,001 and over	0.50%

Investment management fees are pro-rated and paid in arrears on a quarterly basis using the ending balance for that quarter to determine asset value. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a pro-rated fee based on the amount of time remaining in the billing period. The investment management fee for accounts terminated during a quarter will be calculated using the accounts day-end value on the date of notification.

An account may be terminated with written notice at least 15 days in advance. Since fees are paid in arrears, no rebate will be needed upon termination of the account. Fees will be paid via debit from accounts under management or as agreed upon by Client and MAFS.

Investment management accounts will be valued in accordance with the values disclosed on the statement the Client receives from the custodian for the purpose of verifying the computation of the advisory fee. In the absence of a market value, MAFS may seek an independent third-party opinion or through a determination consistent with adviser's fiduciary duty by a qualified associate of MAFS. The applicable fees include all fees and charges for the services of MAFS and its investment advisor representatives. An investment management services Client will be required to authorize in writing the selected service provider to deduct MAFS's advisory fees, any applicable transaction charges, etc., from the Client's account(s) and all such fees will be clearly noted on the Client's statement. As required within the State of Oregon, State of Washington, and other jurisdictions where MAFS may offer its services, the adviser will send the Client a written invoice, including the fee, the formula used to calculate the fee, the fee calculation itself, the time period covered by the fee, and, if applicable, the amount of assets under management on which the fee was based. Also, the adviser will include the name of the custodian(s) on the fee invoice. The adviser will send these to the Client concurrent with the request for payment or payment of the adviser's advisory fees. MAFS will deliver the invoice to the Client's secure ShareFile folder. Clients may request that the invoice be mailed to them, if desired. The adviser urges the Client to compare this information with the fees listed in the account statement. The Adviser shall not be compensated on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of the Client except as permitted under WAC-460-24A-150.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

For Non-Discretionary accounts, if there is insufficient cash in your designated account to pay our fees, we will confirm with you the liquidation of securities to pay the fees. Otherwise, we will contact you to arrange for payment of fees.

When an agreement is terminated, all assets may need to be transferred from our current custodian. You will be responsible for paying all fees, including full quarterly custodial fees, account closure fees, mutual fund fee and all trading costs due to the termination. A custodian may assess additional fees for the transfer of assets. If there is insufficient cash in the account, the liquidation of some securities may be used to pay the fees.

These fees are negotiable, and the final fee schedule is described in the MAFS Investment Management Agreement.

Wealth Advisement Services

MAFS's Wealth Advisement Services fees are based on a percentage of assets under advisement.

Assets Under Advisement	Annual Fee (in%)
$0 to $1,000,000	0.70%
$1,000,001 to $2,000,000	0.55%
$2,000,001 and over	0.30%

Wealth Advisement fees are pro-rated and paid in arrears on a quarterly basis using the ending balance for that quarter to determine asset value. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a pro-rated fee based on the amount of time remaining in the billing period. The Wealth Advisement fee for accounts terminated during a quarter will be calculated using the beginning balance for the quarter in which termination occurred.

A Wealth Advisement relationship may be terminated at any time. Since fees are paid in arrears, no rebate will be needed upon termination of the account. Fees will be paid via check or with credit card as agreed upon by Client and MAFS.

Wealth Advisement accounts will be valued in accordance with the values disclosed on the statement(s) the Client provides from the custodian for the purpose of verifying the computation of the advisory fee. The applicable fees include all fees and charges for the services of MAFS and its investment advisor representatives. As required within the State of Oregon, State of Washington, and other jurisdictions where MAFS may offer its services, the adviser will send the Client a written invoice, including the fee, the formula used to calculate the fee, the fee calculation itself, the time period covered by the fee, and the amount of assets under advisement on which the fee was based. The adviser will send these to the Client concurrent with the request for payment of the adviser's advisory fees. Fees will be paid via check or with credit card or as agreed upon by Client and MAFS. MAFS will deliver the invoice to the Client's secure ShareFile folder. Clients may request that the invoice be mailed to them, if desired.

The Adviser shall not be compensated on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of the Client except as permitted under WAC-460-24A-150.

MAFS believes its fees are reasonable in light of the type of services to be provided and given the assigned representative's experience and expertise. MAFS's fees for its services are negotiable at the discretion of MAFS, and comparable services may potentially be available from other sources at a lower rate.

These fees are negotiable, and the final fee schedule is described in the MAFS Wealth Advisement Agreement.

5B. Third Party Fees

You are responsible for the payment of all third-party fees (i.e. custodian fees, mutual fund fees, transaction fees, etc.). Those fees are separate and distinct from the fees that MAFS charges. All brokerage commissions, stock transfer fees, and other similar charges incurred in connection with transactions in your account will be paid out of assets in the account and are in addition to the investment management fees paid to MAFS. While we take measures to ensure that the fees charged are accurate, it is your responsibility to ensure that the amount of fee charged is correct. You will receive statements directly from brokers, custodians, and other sources and we strongly encourage you to compare these statements for accuracy.

5C. Other Investment Compensation

The only income MAFS receives is from its hourly financial planning services, or from its Investment Management services, or Wealth Advisory services.

5D. How Fees are Paid

Fees for financial planning are generally paid via check or with credit card. Fees for investment management services are directly deducted from clients' accounts at Charles Schwab. Wealth advisement fees can be paid via check or credit card.

MAFS does not require fees to be paid in advance for any of its services. Any unearned fees paid in advance will be refunded to clients within 5 business days. The amount refunded is prorated based on the number of hours worked prior to termination of services.

It is the client's discretion as to how they would prefer to pay their fees.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC charges hourly for financial planning engagements and fees are paid upon service.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

Fees paid to Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC are separate from the fees and expenses charged by mutual fund companies and their portfolio managers. A complete explanation of these fees and expenses is provided in each mutual fund prospectus. The client is encouraged to read each prospectus before investing. The client may also incur transaction costs or administration fees from broker-dealers, trust companies or other service providers. The client is encouraged to obtain a complete schedule of fees from each service provider prior to entering into any engagement. Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC does not receive any portion of these other fees.

No supervised persons accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Because client fees will be withdrawn directly from client accounts, in states that require it, MAFS will:

- A) Possess written authorization from the client to deduct advisory fees from an account held by a qualified custodian.
- B) Send the qualified custodian written notice of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account and verify that the qualified custodian sends statements to the client.
- C) Send the client a written invoice itemizing the fee upon or prior to fee deduction, including the formula used to calculate the fee, the time period covered by the fee and the amount of assets under management on which the fee was based. MAFS will deliver the invoice to the Client's secure ShareFile folder. Clients may request that the invoice be mailed to them, if desired.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees

MAFS does not charge fees based on a share of capital appreciation of the funds of an advisory contract, also known as performance-based fees.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

MAFS provides its services primarily to individuals. We do not require minimums as to income, assets, or net worth.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC offers investment advice on equity securities (including exchange-listed securities, securities traded over-the-counter and foreign issuers), corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper), commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities (including variable life insurance, variable annuities and mutual fund shares), United States government securities, options contracts on securities and interests in partnerships investing in real estate and oil and gas interests.

MAFS primarily recommends Mutual Funds and Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs). Clients should be aware that investing in securities involves a risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

Mutual Funds: Investing in mutual funds carries the risk of capital loss and thus you may lose money investing in mutual funds. All mutual funds have costs that lower investment returns. They can be of bond "fixed income" nature or stock "equity" nature.

If MAFS is engaged to provide investment advice, the client's current financial situation, needs, objectives, goals, and tolerance for risk are first evaluated. Asset allocation and investment policy decisions are made, in the advisor's best judgment, to help the client achieve their overall financial objectives while minimizing risk exposure. Asset allocation is a key component of investment portfolio design. The advisor believes that the appropriate allocation of assets across diverse investment categories (i.e. stock vs. bond, foreign vs. domestic, large cap. vs. small cap., high quality vs. high yield, etc.) is the primary determinant of portfolio returns and is critical to the long-term success of a client's financial objectives.

MAFS employs fundamental, long-term, buy-and-hold philosophies in investment selection and implementation strategies using actively managed mutual funds in addition to index mutual funds. Recommendations provided are based on publicly available reports, analyses, research materials, computerized asset allocation models and various subscription services. Additional sources of information such as financial newspapers and magazines, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and company press releases are also used. Investment strategies used to implement investment advice given to clients include long-term purchases, short-term purchases and, in limited circumstances, the advisor may provide advice to clients interested in trading securities. Frequent trading of securities can affect investment performance, particularly through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes.

While we believe our investment strategies are designed to potentially produce the highest possible return for a given level of risk, MAFS cannot guarantee that an investment objective or goal will be achieved. Some investment decisions made may result in loss, which may include the original principal amount invested.

Stock Fund Primary Risks

An investment in a stock fund could lose money over short or even long periods. You should expect a stock fund's share price and total return to fluctuate within a wide range, like the fluctuations of the overall stock market. A stock fund's performance could be hurt by:

- Stock market risk, which is the chance that stock prices overall will decline. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising prices and periods of falling prices.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

The stock fund's target index may, at times, become focused on stocks of a particular sector, category, or group of companies.

- Index sampling risk (Index Funds), which is the chance that the securities selected for the fund, in the aggregate, will not provide investment performance matching that of the fund's target index. Index sampling risk for the fund should be low.
- Manager risk (Active Funds), which is the chance that poor security selection will cause the stock fund to underperform relevant benchmarks or other funds with a similar investment objective.

Bond Fund Primary Risks

An investment in a bond fund could lose money over short or even long periods. You should expect a bond fund's share price and total return to fluctuate within a wide range, like the fluctuations of the overall bond market. The fund's performance could be hurt by:

- Interest rate risk, which is the chance that bond prices overall will decline because of rising interest rates. Interest rate risk should be moderate for the fund because it invests mainly in short- and intermediate-term bonds, whose prices are less sensitive to interest rate changes than are the prices of long-term bonds.
- Income risk, which is the chance that the fund's income will decline because of falling interest rates. Income risk is generally moderate for intermediate-term bond funds, so investors should expect the fund's monthly income to fluctuate accordingly.
- Credit risk, which is the chance that a bond issuer will fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner, or that negative perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of that bond to decline. Credit risk should be low for the fund because it purchases only bonds that are issued by the U.S. Treasury or are of investment-grade quality.
- Call risk, which is the chance that during periods of falling interest rates, issuers of callable bonds may call (repay) securities with higher coupons or interest rates before their maturity dates. The fund would then lose any price appreciation above the bond's call price and would be forced to reinvest the unanticipated proceeds at lower interest rates, resulting in a decline in the fund's income. For mortgage-backed securities, this risk is known as prepayment risk. Call/prepayment risk should be moderate for the fund because it invests only a portion of its assets in callable bonds and mortgage-backed securities.
- Index sampling risk (Index Funds), which is the chance that the securities selected for the fund, in the aggregate, will not provide investment performance matching that of the fund's target index. Index sampling risk for the fund should be low.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

- Manager risk (Active Funds), which is the chance that poor security selection will cause the fund to underperform relevant benchmarks or other funds with a similar investment objective.

Foreign Stock Fund Primary Risks

An investment in a foreign stock fund could lose money over short or even long periods. You should expect the fund's share price and total return to fluctuate within a wide range, like the fluctuations of the global stock market. The fund's performance could be hurt by:

- Stock market risk, which is the chance that stock prices overall will decline. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising prices and periods of falling prices. The fund's investments in foreign stock markets can be riskier than U.S. stock investments. The prices of foreign stocks and the prices of U.S. stocks have, at times moved in opposite directions. In addition, the fund's target index may, at times, become focused on stocks of a particular sector, category, or group of companies.
- Country/regional risk, which is the chance that world events—such as political upheaval, financial troubles, or natural disasters—will adversely affect the value of securities issued by companies in foreign countries or regions. Because the fund may invest a large portion of its assets in securities of companies located in any one country or region, the fund's performance may be hurt disproportionately by the poor performance of its investments in that area. Country/regional risk is especially high in emerging markets.
- Emerging markets risk, which is the chance that the stocks of companies located in emerging markets will be substantially more volatile, and substantially less liquid, than the stocks of companies located in more developed foreign markets.
- Currency risk, which is the chance that the value of a foreign investment, measured in U.S. dollars, will decrease because of unfavorable changes in currency exchange rates. Currency risk is especially high in emerging markets.
- Index sampling risk (Index Funds), which is the chance that the securities selected for the fund, in the aggregate, will not provide investment performance matching that of the Index.
- Manager risk (Active Funds), which is the chance that poor security selection will cause the fund to underperform relevant benchmarks or other funds with a similar investment objective.
- Investment style risk, which is the chance that returns from non-U.S. small capitalization stocks will trail returns from the overall global stock market. Historically, non-U.S. small cap stocks have been more volatile in price than the large-cap stocks that dominate the global market, and they often perform quite differently.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) Fund Primary Risks

An investment in a REIT fund could lose money over short or even long periods. You should expect the fund's share price and total return to fluctuate within a wide range, like the fluctuations of the overall stock market. The fund's performance could be hurt by:

- Industry concentration risk, which is the chance that the stocks of REITs will decline because of adverse developments affecting the real estate industry and real property values. Because the fund concentrates its assets in REIT stocks, industry concentration risk is high.
- Stock market risk, which is the chance that stock prices overall will decline. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising prices and periods of falling prices. The fund's target index may, at times, become focused on stocks of a limited number of companies. Because the fund seeks to track its target index, the fund may underperform the overall stock market.
- Interest rate risk, which is the chance that REIT stock prices overall will decline because of rising interest rates. Interest rate risk should be high for the fund.
- Investment style risk, which is the chance that the returns from REIT stocks—which typically are small- or mid-capitalization stocks—will trail returns from the overall stock market. Historically, these stocks have performed quite differently from the overall market.

Money Market Fund Primary Risks

A money market fund is designed for investors with a low tolerance for risk; however, the fund's performance could be hurt by:

- Income risk, which is the chance that the fund's income will decline because of falling interest rates. Because the fund's income is based on short-term interest rates—which can fluctuate significantly over short income risk is expected to be high.
- Manager risk, which is the chance that poor security selection will cause the fund to underperform relevant benchmarks or other funds with a similar investment objective.
- Credit risk, which is the chance that the issuer of a security will fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner, or that negative perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of that security to decline. Credit risk should be very low for the fund because it invests primarily in securities that are considered to be of high quality.
- Industry concentration risk, which is the chance that there will be overall problems affecting a particular industry. Because the fund invests more than 25% of its assets in securities issued by companies in the financial services industry, the fund's performance depends to a greater extent on the overall condition of that industry.

An investment in a money market fund is not a deposit of a bank and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency.

Exchange Traded Funds (ETF) Risks

Because ETF Shares are traded on an exchange, they are subject to additional risks:

- ETF Shares are listed for trading on NYSE Arca and/or other stock exchanges and can be bought and sold on the secondary market at market prices. Although it is expected that the market price of an ETF Share typically will approximate its Net Asset Value (NAV), there may be times when the market price and the NAV vary significantly. Thus, you may pay more or less than NAV when you buy ETF Shares on the secondary market, and you may receive more or less than NAV when you sell those shares.
- Although ETF Shares are listed for trading on NYSE Arca and/or other exchanges, it is possible that an active trading market may not develop or be maintained.
- Trading of ETF Shares on NYSE Arca may be halted if NYSE Arca officials deem such action appropriate, if ETF Shares are delisted from NYSE Arca, or if the activation of market wide "circuit breakers" halts trading generally.

Alternative Investment Risks

MAFS may recommend alternative investments that have different and/or additional risks than those listed above. Before investing in alternative investments or any investment recommended by MAFS, make sure that you understand and accept the risks associated with the investment. The client must be able to bear the various risks involved in investing, which may include market risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk, currency risk, or political risk, among others. Material risks involved in a fundamental, long-term, buy-and-hold strategy include short-term market fluctuations affecting value.

It is MAFS' intent to have an Investment Guidelines Statement (IGS) for each client. The IGS reflects investment objectives, time horizon, tolerance for risk, as well as any account constraints. The IGS will be specific enough to provide future guidance while concurrently allowing flexibility to respond to changing market conditions. Since the IGS will, to a large extent, be a product of information and data the Client has provided, the Client will be responsible for reviewing and providing final approval of the document.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

MAFS may purchase for client accounts mutual funds or exchange-traded fund shares for which the client pays a transaction fee. We recognize that the overall cost to the client over the long-term may be lower when using mutual funds or exchange-traded funds with a transaction fee.

All investments include a risk of loss. In addition, as recent global and domestic economic events have indicated, performance of any investment is not guaranteed. As a result, there is a risk of loss of the assets we manage that may be out of our control. We use our best efforts and expertise to manage your assets. However, we cannot guarantee any level of performance or that you will not experience financial loss.

MAFS will use our best judgment and good faith efforts in rendering services to you. We cannot warrant or guarantee any particular level of account performance, or that your account will be profitable over time. Not every investment decision or recommendation made by us will be profitable. You assume all market risk involved in the investment of account assets under your agreement and understand that investment decisions made for your accounts are subject to various market, currency, economic, political, and business risks.

Except as may otherwise be provided by law, we will not be liable to you for (a) any loss that you may suffer by reason of any investment decision made or other action taken or omitted in good faith by MAFS with that degree of care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances that a prudent person acting in a fiduciary capacity would use; (b) any loss arising from our adherence to your instructions; or (c) any unauthorized act or failure to act by a custodian of your account. Nothing in this document shall relieve us from any responsibility or liability we may have under state or federal statutes.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation, or Interest in Client Transactions & Personal Trading

As a fiduciary, our firm and its associates have a duty of utmost good faith to act solely in the best interests of each client. Our clients entrust us with their funds and personal information, which in turn places a high standard on our conduct and integrity. Our fiduciary duty is a core aspect of our Code of Ethics and represents the expected basis of all our dealings. The firm also adheres to the Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility adopted by the CFP® Board of Standards Inc. and accepts the obligation not only to comply with the mandates and requirements of all applicable laws and regulations but also to take responsibility to act in an ethical and professionally responsible manner in all professional services and activities.

Code of Ethics Description

This code does not attempt to identify all possible conflicts of interest, and literal compliance with each of its specific provisions will not shield associated persons from liability for personal trading or other conduct that violates a fiduciary duty to advisory clients. A summary of the Code of Ethics' Principles is outlined below.

- Integrity: Associated persons shall offer and provide professional services with integrity.
- Objectivity: Associated persons shall be objective in providing professional services to clients.
- Competence: Associated persons shall provide services to clients competently and maintain the necessary knowledge and skill to continue to do so in those areas in which they are engaged.
- Fairness: Associated persons shall perform professional services in a manner that is fair and reasonable to clients, principals, partners, and employers, and shall disclose conflict(s) of interest in providing such services.
- Confidentiality: Associated persons shall not disclose confidential client information without the specific consent of the client unless in response to proper legal process, or as required by law.
- Professionalism: Associated persons' conduct in all matters shall reflect credit to the profession. Diligence: Associated persons shall act diligently in providing professional services.

We periodically review and amend our Code of Ethics to ensure that it remains current, and we require all firm access persons to attest to their understanding of and adherence to the Code of Ethics at least annually. Our firm will provide a copy of its Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

Investment Recommendations Involving Material Financial Interest & Conflicts of Interest

Neither our firm, its associates or any related person is authorized to recommend to a client, or effect a transaction for a client, involving any security in which our firm or a related person has a material financial interest, such as in the capacity as an underwriter, adviser to the issuer, etc.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients & Conflicts of Interest

Our firm and its "related persons" may buy or sell securities similar to, or different from, those we recommend to clients for their accounts. Our policy is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of our firm will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Nonetheless, because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee. In an effort to reduce or eliminate certain conflicts of interest involving the firm or personal trading, our policy may require that we restrict or prohibit associates' transactions in specific reportable securities transactions. Any exceptions or trading pre-clearance must be approved by the firm principal in advance of the transaction in an account, and we maintain the required personal securities transaction records per regulation.

Trading Securities at/Around the Same Time as Client's Securities

From time to time, MAFS's principal and "related persons" may buy or sell securities for themselves at or around the same time as clients. The strategies we recommend tend to be passive investment strategies utilizing broad based mutual funds and ETFs that are highly unlikely to be materially impacted by the trades of either the principal of MAFS or related persons. At no time will MAFS or any related persons receive preferential treatment over MAFS's clients.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker-Dealers

In recommending custodians, we have an obligation to seek the "best execution" of transactions in client accounts. The determinative factor in the analysis of best execution is not the lowest possible commission cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of the custodian's services. The factors we consider when evaluating a custodian for best execution include, without limitation, the custodian's:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody);
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account);
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.);
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), etc.);
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions;
- Quality of services;
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate the prices;
- Reputation, financial strength, security and stability;
- Prior service to us and our clients.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

With this in consideration, our firm may recommend Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., a registered broker-dealer, member FINRA and SIPC ("Schwab").

1. Research and other Soft-Dollar Benefits

MAFS does not have any soft-dollar arrangements with custodians whereby soft-dollar credits, used to purchase products and services, are earned directly in proportion to the amount of commissions paid by a client. However, as a result of being on their institutional platform, Schwab may provide us with certain services and products that may benefit us. All such soft dollar benefits are consistent with the safe harbor contained in Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Schwab Advisor Services™ is Schwab's business serving independent investment advisory firms like MAFS. They provide our clients and us with access to their institutional brokerage services (trading, custody, reporting and related services), many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients' accounts, while others help us manage and grow our business. Schwab's support services are generally available on an unsolicited basis (we don't have to request them) and at no charge to us. The benefits received by advisor, or its personnel do not depend on the number of brokerage transactions directed to Schwab. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, advisor at all times must put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by advisor or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the advisor's choice of Schwab for custody and brokerage services. This conflict of interest is mitigated as advisor regularly reviews the factors used to select custodians to ensure our recommendation is appropriate. Following is a more detailed description of Schwab's support services:

- ❖ Services that benefit you. Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.
- ❖ Services that may not directly benefit you. Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

- Provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements)
 - Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts
 - Provide pricing and other market data
 - Facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts
 - Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting
- ❖ Services that generally benefit only us. Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:
- Educational conferences and events
 - Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
 - Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession
- ❖ Your brokerage and custody costs. For our clients' accounts that Schwab maintains, Schwab generally does not charge you separately for custody services but is compensated by charging you commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into your Schwab account. Certain trades (for example, many mutual funds and ETFs) may not incur Schwab commissions or transaction fees.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

We receive no referrals from a custodian, broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that custodian, broker-dealer or third party.

3. Clients Directing Which Broker/Dealer/Custodian to Use

We do not allow clients to direct us to use a specific broker-dealer to execute transactions. If a client wishes for MAFS to execute a transaction, then the client must use our recommended custodian (broker-dealer), Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. Member FINRA/SIPC. Not all investment advisers require their clients to direct brokerage. By requiring clients to use our specific custodian, we may be unable to achieve most favorable execution of client transaction and that this may cost clients' money over using a lower-cost custodian.

Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

Investment advisers may elect to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time when they believe such action may prove advantageous to clients. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading. We do not engage in block trading. It should be noted that implementing trades on a block or aggregate basis may be less expensive for client accounts; however, it is our trading policy is to implement all client orders on an individual basis. Therefore, we do not aggregate or "block" client transactions. Considering the types of investments, we hold in advisory client accounts, we do not believe clients are hindered in any way because we trade accounts individually. This is because we develop individualized investment strategies for clients and holdings will vary. Our strategies are primarily developed for the long-term and minor differences in price execution are not material to our overall investment strategy.

Some Registered Investment Advisers execute client accounts on an aggregated basis as a way to lower expenses. Aggregate trading is not utilized by MAFS.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Client accounts are to be reviewed at each meeting, whether in person, via video conferencing, or over the phone, with a minimum review occurring annually. Reviews may also be triggered by material market, economic or political events, or by changes in the client's financial situation (such as retirement, job loss, physical move, etc.) Andrew Jamison and Jeff Bloch perform client reviews. MAFS provides written summaries of all meetings to clients as part of account reviews.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

MAFS does not receive any economic benefit, directly or indirectly, other than soft dollar benefits as described in Item 12 above, from any third party for advice rendered to our clients. Nor does MAFS directly or indirectly compensate any person or entity who is not advisory personnel for client referrals.

Item 15 - Custody

MAFS deducts advisory fees directly from client accounts at each client's selected custodian and is therefore deemed to have limited custody of client assets. Because advisory fees will be withdrawn directly from client accounts, MAFS will:

- Possess written authorization from the client to deduct advisory fees from an account held by a qualified custodian.
- Send the qualified custodian written notice of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account.
- In all instances, the Adviser will send the client a written invoice, including the fee, the formula used to calculate the fee, the fee calculation itself, the time period covered by the fee, and, if applicable, the amount of assets under management on which the fee was based. Also, the Adviser will include the name of the custodian(s) on your fee invoice. The Adviser will send these to the client in accordance with the request for payment or payment of the Adviser's advisory fees. We urge the client to compare this information with the fees listed in the account statement.

Clients will receive all account statements and billing invoices that are required in each jurisdiction, and they should carefully review those statements for accuracy. Clients are urged to compare the account statements they receive from the qualified custodian with invoices and reports that they receive from MAFS.

MAFS' client's accounts are held by a qualified custodian and other than to withdraw advisory fees, MAFS shall have no liability to the client for any loss or other harm to any property in the account. This includes harm to any property in the account resulting from the insolvency of the custodian or any unauthorized acts of the agents or employees of the custodian and whether or not the full amount or such loss is covered by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC") or any other insurance which may be carried by the custodian. You understand that SIPC provides only limited protection for the loss of property held by a broker-dealer. As a fiduciary, MAFS will always act in your best interests and in doing so, the above does not limit or modify that duty to you. Custodial statements will include fees charged by MAFS.

MAFS does not take custody of client cash, bank accounts or securities. The client's cash, bank accounts and securities will be maintained by unaffiliated, qualified custodians such as banks, brokerage firms, mutual fund companies and transfer agents. The client will receive account statements directly from their service provider. Clients should receive either monthly or quarterly statements from their custodians. These statements may be received via mail or in some cases via electronically.

Firm personnel will not act as a trustee for, or have full power of attorney over, a client account unless as a co-trustee of an immediate or incompetent family member.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

MAFS provides both discretionary and non-discretionary investment management services. For the non-discretionary investment management service, MAFS may recommend a trade but will not place the trade without the client's permission. This permission may be in written electronic form.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

MAFS does not vote client securities. The client will maintain responsibility for directing the manner in which proxies are voted, as well as all other elections related to mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, or other events pertaining to the client's investments. The client will receive their proxies and other solicitations directly from the custodian or transfer agent for their investments. Please contact Andrew Jamison with any questions at 503-336-3776 or andrew@main-avenue.com.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Registered Investment Advisors are required in this item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about our financial condition. MAFS has no financial commitments that impair our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and we have not been subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

MAFS does not have custody of clients funds or securities nor requires or solicits prepayment of more than $500 in fees per client, six months or more in advance and therefore does not need to include a balance sheet with this brochure.

¹The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

Certified Financial Planner (CFP)

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Main Avenue Financial Services, LLC

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP® Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.
